

we are:

*a pleasure collective of blackness and brownness manifesting
& cultivating
the conditions
for a joyful liberation:
deep embodying
of study, radical care, vision, & fierce art practice.*

*lovers of joy.
lovers of freaky.
lovers of laughter.
lovers of earth.*

universal lovers, free lovers, lovers of freedom and justice

a collective love rehearsal blk/brown/queer/trans/cis/het artists/intellectuals for whom the creative and the critical are inextricably linked

we are unlimited.

pleasure in the presence of beauty & study we are multigenerational. stretching our roots back into distant (and not so distant) pasts, memories and relationships. as we stretch behind us, we reach ahead, led by the sounds of our footsteps, arms linked in the darkness.

unraveling the tapestry digging deeper into the fabric of what makes our world visions of unconditional cooperation and care belief in the impossible commitment and practice.

breaking binaries, illusions, rules, & straight time chained up to a flat dimension where money, plastic, and god dictates.

sharpening weapons. . . humming our dreams in collective rhythm trans/forming what we see feel touch & taste into sensual earthy pleasure and joy shape shifting in and out of straight time we are caretakers.

radical care as an act of insurrection as awareness of self & others as cooking for people you love as being present as deep listening with your heart as asking if its ok to hug as commitment to revolution as asking questions as reaching out
as checking in
as surrender
